FROM THE PRESIDENT

Sixty members attended the Fall Business Meeting, held Friday, September 21. In what is becoming a very pleasant tradition, the meeting was held at Golden Gate University. Many thanks to Nancy Carter and her staff for taking care of all the arrangements.

Fall workshops are coming up on November 9. Registration forms and grant applications were mailed out by first class mail on September 24. If for some reason you did not receive this mailing, or have mislaid the application, a form has been included in this Newsletter.

So far this year, the Association has experienced a drop in membership of approximately twenty-five. As is usually the case in the fall, our membership roster is in a state of confusion because former members have neglected to pay their dues by the September 1 deadline. In order not to drop anyone inadvertently from the membership rolls, the deadline was extended to the September 21 meeting. Also, the Education Committee sent Workshop flyers to all 1983-84 members, as well as new members. All subsequent mailings, including this Newsletter will go only to current members.

Although complete minutes of the Business Meeting will appear in the next Newsletter, I would just like to mention a few highlights here. Committee Reports given at the meeting indicate that NOCALL has an active year ahead. The enthusiastic members of the Membership Committee are planning various activities which will establish ties with library schools in the area. If anyone would like to volunteer to host tours of their library to library school students, contact Nancy Lewis or Martha Mille.
The Institute Committee is hard at work planning an Institute on Labor Law to be held in Sacramento in March. If you know of any dynamic speakers on this subject, get in touch with Alice McKenzie, the Chair of the Committee.

Although not mentioned at the meeting, the Nominations Committee will be looking for candidates to fill NOCALL offices during 1985-86. This process will be going on over the next few months; so if you have any recommendations, bring them to the attention of Linda Weir, Chair of the Nominations Committee, or one of the other members of the Committee.

Until next Newsletter,
Gail

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Public Access to Legal Information Committee

The committee's members work primarily in either Sacramento or San Francisco. Consequently, the committee has decided to present workshops in both areas. The committee will survey the collections of prospective libraries and arrange sessions with the librarians to discuss how to use the existing collection(s) for optimal results. Among the topics to be covered are: the importance of upkeep services and the professional and ethical considerations of legal reference. If the librarians desire, the committee will be prepared to supply participants with a list of recommended acquisitions so that they may improve their respective collections.

Karen Toran
Grants Committee

Applications for grants covering registration costs for the NOCALL workshop have been mailed with the registration information in late September.

Union List

No news is good news....sort of. Or perhaps one should say no news is not bad news as far as the NOCALL Union List is concerned. The projected date of publication is January 1985. You will be informed of the particulars such as price and method of distribution as these mysteries are unraveled.

NEWER LAW LIBRARIANS CALLED TO PRESENT PAPERS AT THE 1985 NEW YORK ANNUAL MEETING

In an innovative attempt to foster scholarship and newer member participation in Annual Meetings, individuals who have been Association members for less than five years are invited to submit papers for presentation at the 1985 New York Annual Meeting.

The papers may be on any subject so long as they fall within the general theme of the New York program: "Law Librarianship - A Wide Perspective." While traditional scholarly papers are anticipated, creative work in any form will be accepted.

A written outline or prospectus should be submitted by December 31, 1984 to: Roger F. Jacobs, Librarian, Supreme Court of the United States, Washington, D.C. 20543. Completed contributions will be required by May 1, 1985.

Submitted papers will be reviewed by Margaret A. Leary, Director, University of Michigan Law Library; Donald G. Ziegenfuss, Librarian, Carlton, Fields, Ward, Emmanuel, Smith and Cutler, Tampa, Florida; and Roger F. Jacobs.

Three papers will be selected for presentation at the 1985 New York Annual Meeting. In addition to having the opportunity to present their views to the membership, the three winners will receive an appropriate Certificate of Achievement. All papers will be forwarded to the Editor for possible publication in the Law Library Journal.

Newer members are urged to take this opportunity to simultaneously advance the profession and their careers.
MEMBERSHIP NEWS

Stanford Law Library has welcomed Evelyn McMillan to their staff in a new position as the interlibrary loan librarian.

We've also been told of the remodeling of the Reference Area at Stanford with new desks and a computer terminal station. They now have a well-defined and patron-accessible space for reference work.

Susan Kuklin, Law Librarian at Santa Clara County Law Library, passed the February bar examination and was admitted to the State Bar on June 13.

Santa Clara County Law Library is converting their classification to the Library of Congress scheme. Technical Services Librarian, Rolene Bailey, is in charge of the project and is working hard to accomplish the task as quickly as possible. Even so, they see several months of confusion ahead of them. It will be worth the effort, though, when completed.

Alice Murray retired from her position as director of the McGeorge School of Law Library in July. She and her husband purchased a home in Dallas, Oregon. Kathy Henderson has been appointed acting director of the library.

Muriel Hoppes, California State Law Librarian and Shirley David, Sacramento County Law Librarian, serving as the Education Committee of the Council of California County Law Librarians, presented a one day workshop entitled, "Administering the Small County Law Library" on September 24, 1984 during the State Bar Convention in Monterey. Shirley was also elected vice-president of the Council at its annual meeting.

Marian A. Sawyer, currently Assistant Librarian for Technical Services at McGeorge School of Law, has been appointed Law Librarian for the California Department of Justice. Marian replaces Marybelle Archibald who accepted the position of Deputy Attorney General with the Department.

Liza Nicholson was married in September. She now answers to Liza MacMorris.

The California State Law Library in Sacramento has now acquired LEXIS. Searching service for attorneys employed by the State of California throughout the State will be provided by the State Law Library free of charge. Appointments for a LEXIS search may be made by calling the State Library at 445-8833 (ATSS: 485-8833).
The firm of Chickering & Gregory had its inception in the mid-1870's. The founding attorneys were W.H. Chickering, Amherst (Class of 1871) and Boston University Law, and William Thomas, Harvard College (Class of 1871) and Harvard Law. While in the employment of Stephen J. Phillips in San Francisco, they decided to go into practice for themselves and formed the firm of Chickering & Thomas. Warren Gregory, UC-Berkeley (Class of 1887) and Hastings College of the Law, joined the firm as a lawyer clerk and became associated with the firm name in 1893. In the mid-1890's William Thomas left to establish the firm of Thomas & Gerstle. The firm became Chickering & Gregory on January 1, 1901. The firm has had a mobile existence. The first quarters were in the First National Bank Building, at the corner of Sutter and Sansome Streets. The fire and earthquake of April 18, 1906 destroyed later quarters in the Mutual Life Building, at California and Sansome Streets. The firm was located temporarily in Oakland and in 1907 moved into the rebuilt Merchants Exchange Building, 465 California. For over forty years the firm resided at 111 Sutter. During the summer of 1977 the move to 3 Embarcadero Center occurred.

The architectural firm of Bond & Brown is responsible for the physical appearance of the firm, which is quite dramatic when you enter on the 23rd floor. As you walk towards the main reception desk the walkway opens on both sides to the floor below which houses the central part of the library. The predominant sensation is one of spaciousness. This is very misleading because there is an acute space problem in the library. Light oak furniture, off-white walls, clear glass barriers, and subdued red carpeting add to the airy feeling. The library has approximately 2,200 square feet of floor space. The staff working area consists of an office for the librarian and a two-sided work counter for the library assistant. There are two study tables which seat 6 readers each and 5 carrels, 3 on the 22nd floor and 2 on the 23rd floor.

Cataloging: The library uses a modified version of the "Verlinda Rose" classification scheme and LC subject headings. 35% of the titles received require original cataloging. Marivco in San Antonio supplies our catalog cards for MARC records. I am flirting with the possibility of automating many of the library's procedures. Finding the most versatile and least expensive software is the key.

Special Collections: The firm's areas of specialization include taxation, securities, real estate, labor relations, and employee benefits. The moderately extensive collection of nineteenth century California legal material reflects our early beginnings.

ABA/BNA LAWYER'S MANUAL ON PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT.
Washington, D.C., Bureau of National Affairs; American Bar Association. 1984-

A new service published this year jointly by the American Bar Association and the Bureau of National Affairs provides a significant addition to the literature of professional responsibility. The manual brings together major documents in this area such as: the ABA Model Code of Professional Responsibility, the ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct, as well as ABA ethics opinions. The manual also contains digests of ethics opinions from state and local bar associations.

The new manual consists primarily of a practical guide on how to handle issues involving ethical considerations in the practice of law. The thirteen topics under which these issues are arranged and discussed include: Fee Arrangements, Advertising, Client Trust Funds, Confidentiality, Conflict of Interest, and Withdrawal of Representation. The issues under these topics are then divided into three sections entitled PRACTICE GUIDE, BACKGROUND, and APPLICATION. The PRACTICE GUIDE is a statement that summarizes what model rules and standards, court decisions, and ethics opinions have to say on the issue. The BACKGROUND provides further reference on the legal and historical development of the issue, including text of relevant model code provisions and complete citations to reference materials. The APPLICATION then sets forth practical examples to illustrate how courts and disciplinary authorities have dealt with the issues.

The service, at the present time, consists of two loose-leaf volumes. One volume contains the professional responsibility documents and the practice guide. This volume, in order to remain current, is to be continually updated. The other volume is comprised of biweekly Current Reports, which summarize and review the latest developments in the field. These reports include such items as recent court decisions, ethics opinions, disciplinary proceedings, bar association activities and legislative action.

The manual is provided with a concise HOW-TO-USE section and the following finding aids: a table of contents, which gives a complete listing of topics and issues, a general index to these issues, and an index to the ethics opinions. The manual also contains bibliographies which appear at the end of many of the topic sections.

The Almanac of the Federal Judiciary contains profiles of all "active" United States District Court Judges. The Almanac was compiled from questionnaires sent to each judge, from secondary sources of information on the Federal judiciary, and from surveys sent to lawyers practising in all districts. In the introduction to the Almanac the editors outline in detail how this information was gathered, verified, and interpreted for inclusion in this manual.

The profile of each judge consists of standard biographical data, as well as brief evaluations based on the information collected from the various sources. The profiles include, for example, the "Noteworthy Rulings" of each judge. These rulings were either indicated by the judge in the returned questionnaire or determined by the editors in the course of their research. The "Lawyers Comments" about the judge are summarized in a pattern that corresponds to the survey sent to the attorneys. A copy of this survey is included in the Almanac.

The Almanac is a loose-leaf publication that the editors indicate they will periodically update. It is divided by tab-guides into the eleven circuits and the D.C. Circuit. Each circuit is then divided into states, and within each state into districts. The judges are arranged within each district as follows: Chief Justice; other Justices (alphabetically); Senior Justices (also alphabetically). The index to the Almanac lists the names of the judges and gives a reference to their respective districts. A page number is also given, which refers to the page on which the justice appears within each circuit.

WHAT'S NEW

Mead Data has announced the introduction of Short Cut, an enhancement that allows users to bypass menu screens and some command sequences. By using Short Cut, you can stack commands by separating them with a semicolon. Abbreviations preceded by a dot replace the automatic function keys. For example, .CF is used to change files.

A complete explanation of Short Cut is available from Mead Data.

Also new from Mead Data: software enabling Apple and Wang microcomputer users to gain access to LEXIS, NEXIS and other Mead Data services. Available now is software for the Wang Professional Computer, Apple III, IBM 3270 PC, IBM Portable PC, and Xerox 820-11 microcomputers. Software for the Apple Macintosh, Apple IIc Portable, Apple IIe, and Televideo 924 will be ready later this year.

OCLC has introduced the Cataloging Micro Enhancer, a software package for use with the M300 Workstation and the Cataloging Subsystem. Some of the routine cataloging work can be batched, and repetitive tasks, such as title searching, are done automatically when you use the Enhancer.
SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON INTERNATIONAL PLACEMENT
SEEKS U.S. HOST LIBRARIES

The Special Committee on International Placements (SCIP) is beginning its second year as a special committee of the American Association of Law Libraries. The Committee hopes to act as a clearinghouse for law librarians, both here and abroad, who wish to participate in international employment exchanges or visitations, and for foreign and domestic law libraries who wish to participate in the program.

To determine the viability of the Committee's endeavor, a questionnaire was sent to law libraries in selected geographical locations last year. The positive response indicated there is an interest for this type of program.

Since funding is a constraint in effecting an international placement program, SCIP members are collecting information on funding sources to which an individual or institution might apply to finance an exchange or visitation. Also, work is currently underway to develop guidelines for libraries participating in an exchange of staff or the hosting of a librarian from another country.

The Committee is now developing a file of U.S. law libraries which are interested in the program. If your library is a potential participant, please complete and return the form below. A questionnaire will be returned to gather further information.

Please include the library listed below as a potential SCIP host library. We would be interested in the following:

___ Exchange agreement between a librarian on our staff and a staff member from another country.

___ Hosting a law librarian from abroad.

___ Sending a staff member to a visiting position in a foreign law library.

Thank you for your interest.
