9:30 - 12:30 PROGRAM (PRELIMINARY)

Striving For Justice: The 100th Anniversary of the California Court of Appeal, 2005

Hon. James J. Marchiano, Presiding Justice, Division One

California Court of Appeal, First Appellate District

Creative Commons: Reasonable, Flexible Copyright Rules

Mr. Glenn Otis Brown

Executive Director, Creative Commons

From the Creative Commons website: A single goal unites Creative Commons' current and future projects: to build a layer of reasonable, flexible copyright in the face of increasingly restrictive default rules. Balance, compromise, and moderation - once the driving forces of a copyright system that valued innovation and protection equally - have become endangered species. Glenn Otis Brown has been Executive Director of Creative Commons since Summer 2002. Before that, he served as Assistant Director. Glenn is also a lecturer at Stanford Law School, where he teaches a class on Creative Commons and free and open-source software licensing with Lawrence Lessig.

Intellectual Freedom and Intellectual Property: Issues for Libraries

Mary Minow, JD, AMLS, LibraryLaw.com

LibraryLaw.com focuses on legal issues of interest to libraries, such as copyright, privacy and the First Amendment. Mary Minow is a library law consultant and is the coauthor of The Library's Legal Answer Book, with Tomas Lipinski, published by the American Library Association, 2003.
